

My Old Kentucky Home

The sight of bluegrass makes a person smile
As purebred horses run the Derby mile,
And anxious patrons watch the race in style
In hopes their choice will make the day worthwhile.

Some ponies at an early age compile
A winning record at the track turnstile.
Careers for them can be so volatile
So trainers must be sure they reconcile
Their plans to win with how a juvenile
May act when pushed so they become hostile.

But horses aren't the only thing to do
Kentucky has more shoreline than most knew
Behind only Alaska, yes it's true,
These boating havens known by very few
Who navigate by speedboat or canoe.

And basketball is battled out by two Great schools like Louisville and UK too.
This rivalry is played each year like new,
And getting tickets always is a coup
If you wear red or old Kentucky blue.

© Bill Amirault – 2006