

Wisconsin Dairy Farms

As any new observer may have guessed,
It's known across the country east to west,
Wisconsin dairy products are the best.
Their textured cheeses are the creamiest
With flavors that are easy to digest.

Wisconsin River falls were once caressed
By rushing waters heading south and west
Creating silver cliffs as they progressed.
In proper daylight, they're the prettiest.

With winds that scream and howl from the northwest
The blustery winter cold is quite a test.
They're only for the tough and heartiest.
So one must be incredibly impressed
That natives rarely come across as stressed
Despite the way their state has now progressed.

Much more than beer steins at Oktoberfest
There is one item people will contest,
As Green Bay Packer loyalists attest
A ticket there has precious interest.
These trusty fans say how much they are blessed.

© Bill Amirault – 2007